LITERACY EXPLORATION THROUGH FILM & THEATRE |

Instructor: Mr. Alberto

From Harry Potter finding out he's a wizard - to introducing instructional writing - to establishing shots from Hunger Games. We will talk about settings and their richness. We will use scenes from William Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, weaving modern-day adaptations of other Shakespearean adaptations like Lion King- to introduce dialogue and play scripting.

GIRL TIME | Instructors: NIA Girls & Ms. Kelley

Being a girl can be tough, especially being a girl going into middle school. There will be questions, challenges, and so many things to be excited about, and the NIA girls want to help soon-to-be-sixth graders prepare for this new stage in life. Join in weekly conversations about skills, habits, and insider information that will help you get ready for middle school. The NIA girls is a young women's leadership group for high school girls provided by the Carver Center. We hope that you will join the NIA girls as they offer mentorship, guidance and support for tween girls on their journey.
