

Carver Board Member Nominations: 2025 Candidates

Christine O'Brien

- CEO and former CFO of The Sustainable City Americas, a subsidiary of SEE Holding, a multinational holding company that designs, invests in, and builds sustainable infrastructure and cities.
- Senior Advisor for Edelman Smithfield, providing strategic counsel on activism defense and financial markets.
- Adjunct professor at Fordham University.
- Prior to her current roles, Christine spent 11 years at Elliott Investment Management, where she was Head of Investment Stewardship from 2017-2023.
- Served on the Managed Funds Association (MFA), ESG Advisory Council, the Council of Institutional Investors (CII) Advisory Council and on the PCAOB Investor Advisory Group (IAG).
- B.S. and M.S. in Accounting from Gabelli School of Business at Fordham University.
- Licensed Certified Public Accountant and a Certified Fraud Examiner in New York State.

Mike Walsh

- Chief Operating Officer at PatientPoint, a healthcare technology company that provides educational health care content for patients and physicians.
- Prior to PatientPoint, Mike served as President of the Prescription Marketplace business at GoodRx, where he led initiatives to enhance prescription access and affordability.
- Worked in leadership roles in Walmart's Health & Wellness business, where he improved pharmacy operations and launched innovative health clinic models.
- Began his career in health care at Monitor Deloitte Consulting, focusing on strategy and operational transformation.
- Active in coaching youth sports and has been renting the Carver Center gym for his childrens' teams since Summer 2023.
- BA Middlebury College and MBA from The Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth.

Rachel Dunne

- Has lived in Rye with her husband and three children for nearly nine years. Prior to this, she lived in New York City for eleven years. She grew up in Madison, CT.
- Graduated Quinnipiac University with a degree in sociology & social work. After graduating, she worked as a therapeutic foster care clinician, managing a caseload of thirty children with mental health concerns in addition to being in the foster care system. Following this, she worked for the Yale AIDS Program, offering social & medical services to people struggling with active injection drug use as well as being HIV positive.
- Rachel graduated Quinnipiac Law School in 2006, after which she became the Executive Director of the New Canaan Teen Center, managing fundraising & programming.
- Upon moving to Manhattan, Rachel worked at the East Village Food Co-op, a nonprofit initiative focused on bringing organic, vegetarian food to the community. She also assisted a local church in organizing & running its soup kitchen, diaper bank, & clothing drives.
- Now in Rye, Rachel & her husband, Chris, are active supporters of the Rye Nature Center, where Chris serves on the board of directors. They are also involved in their children's three separate schools, & have attended & supported the Carver Center benefit for the past two years. In her free time, Rachel loves boxing at her local gym in Port Chester.